BRITISH BLAST NAZI CRUISER

Big Air Squadron Attacks Prinz Eugen As Ship Makes Way to Germany.

LONDON, May 18.—The 10,000-ton German cruiser Prinz Eugen was hit by aerial torpedoes off the southern tip of Norway yesterday, the air ministry announced today.

The Prinz Eugen, one of the squadron of Nazi vessels which was hit by aerial torpedoes off the southern tip of Norway yesterday, the air ministry announced today.

The British planes which carried out the attack on the Prinz Eugen raked the decks of the ship with machine gun fire, the communiqué added.

Five German ME-109 planes were reported shot down in the furious action and the British acknowledged the loss of nine of their own planes.

Beauforts, Hudsons and Blenheims, escorted by Spitfires, made up the attacking British squadron, the air ministry said.

Both the royal navy and the air force have been lying in wait for the Prinz Eugen to venture from her Norwegian refuge ever since she made a daring dash through the English channel last February in company with the battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau.

3 Marion Youths Start for West Coast on Bikes

The lure of big-paying jobs in defense industries plus a burning desire to see what America is like in other regions before becoming subject to national selective service regulations provided reasons aplenty for a cross-country bike trip begun today by three 18-year-old Marion youths.

The three, all members of last year's Harding High school graduating class, are Gene Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Roberts of 638 Girard avenue, Clayton Gifford Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Gifford Sr. of 591 Summit street, and Charles Baker, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Collins of 282 Leader street.

German Morale Slips, But Gestapo Whip Keeping People Toeing Line

Long Series of Events Starting with Hess Flight Causes Breakdown: War on U. S. Helped.

Edwin A. Shanke, who gives this view of inside Germany, is a member of the former Berlin bureau of The Associated Press who has arrived in London from internment at Bad Nauheim with United States citizens being exchanged for Axis nationals.

By EDWIN A. SHANKE
LISBON, May 18.—German civilian morale is slipping. But that doesn't mean that Nazism is near internal collapse or that revolution is just around the corner.

Such an estimate of Germany today would be pure wishful thinking. For it must be remembered that the Nazis keep the people-ridden country in hand, with a Gestapo agent behind every bush and every neighbor a potential informer.

But it does signify a letdown in the general day-to-day efficiency, a slackening in the German war effort which in the long run will have a telling effect.

The sinking spirits at home are being transmitted in turn to the soldier at the front—honey-combed what until recently had been high morale. Letters from home convey to the soldiers part of the picture. Home leave, when granted, does the rest.

German morale reached its crest after the smashing Balkan campaign in 1941. That was natural. The German army had an unbroken string of victories. The nation appeared united as never before. The mass of the people still hadn't seriously thought of the United States as a potential enemy.

But then a series of elements entered the picture which began to undermine morale.

These included the flight of Adolf Hitler's confidante, Rudolf Hess, to England; the invasion of Russia; Nazi party fanaticism; persecution of the churches; deterioration of food and general living conditions; false promises of peace; entry of the United States into the war; the dismissal of Field Marshal Walther von Brauchitsch; and tension between Heinrich Himmler's SS (elite guard) troops and the army.

In the German mind today, Hess is a traitor who flew to the enemy to reveal Hitler's general war strategy to the British. The Nazis quickly hushed the Hess incident, but nothing disclosed the panic in high Nazi quarters better than the steps taken to counteract the demoralizing effects of Hess' flight. Police and plain clothes men were in a general state of alarm. Nazi wardens in multi-circulated in cafes and bars and other public centers to report anyone discussing the Hess case.

The departure of Hess was the first big smashup in the Nazi hierarchy since the blood purge of 1934. No amount of hushing could minimize its repercussions. When officials tried to explain the flight as the act of a "crazy man," the people asked themselves "are we being ruled by crazy men?"

Then came the invasion of Russia. Germans were not prepared for it mentally. The advisability of tackling such a giant with Britain unconquered—not only shook the military and political leadership from top to bottom, but for

RETAIL GOODS PRICE CEILING IN OPERATION

Nearly All Items of Merchandise Limited by Highest Charges Made in March.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, May 18.—The clock of rising prices was moved back to March today and halted. From now on, no retail merchant may charge more for consumer products than the highest price he charged in March.

The price control order was not expected to result in any startling reductions, economists figured that the average drop in the cost of living would be about 15 per cent.

As a guide to the nearly 2,000,000 American retailers affected the office of price administration has begun distributing a "shopkeepers' bible," entitled "what every retailer should know about the general maximum price regulation."

Five tests are prescribed by OPA by which the retailer may determine his maximum selling price under the universal ceiling.

The first basic rule requires the retailer to take as his ceiling the highest price at which he delivered a specified article in March. The key factor is the actual delivery during March, rather than the making of a sale in that month. Delivery took place when the customer received the article or when it left the store on its way to the customer.

Second Rule
The second rule covers a retailer who offered an article for sale in March but made no deliveries. His ceiling will be the highest offering price—the price marked on the article itself or on the shelves or racks where it was displayed for sale.

Third, for an article neither delivered nor offered for sale in March, the ceiling is the highest price of the "similar article most nearly like it" delivered or offered for delivery during March.

Fourth, if none of the first three rules apply, the retailer must fix the price of his article "not higher than the highest March price of the most closely competitive retailer of the same class for the same article" or the article most nearly like it.

Fifth, if none of the four previous rules apply, the retailer may charge no more than the price he charged for the article in the same month of the previous year.

Marion Merchants Observe Price Ceilings

Marion merchants generally were complying with the price ceiling order effective today, as all items affecting the cost of living were marked back to the March high as the maximum.

To assist merchants in establishing prices for summer commodities, the Marion Chamber of Commerce today announced a special bulletin of instructions is being prepared on the subject and will be distributed to all who may be affected.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Ann Rosenberg, local consumer's interest committee chairman, said a consumer's institute is being planned and Professor Gilbert Barnes of Ohio Wesleyan university has been appointed by the Cleveland district of the OPA to conduct the sessions.

She said she is awaiting a reply from him as to the exact date he will be in Marion to instruct those desiring to attend the institute. It is understood the institute will be conducted over a period of from three to six hours.

War Board To Coordinate Marion Fund Drives Named

New Group To Be Asked To Pass on All Emergency Campaigns in City and County.

Organization of a war board to coordinate the Marion community fund drives for the duration of the war was effected at a citizens' committee meeting Saturday at the Hotel Harding. Purpose of the war board will be to coordinate all emergency appeals for money-raising campaigns in connection with the war effort.

The war board, according to plans, will serve primarily as an advisory group to the Marion Community Foundation, Inc., which will act as the fund-raising organization for the various approved campaigns and emergency appeals.

J. E. Oliphant, president of the Marion Community Foundation, Inc., presided for the meeting which was attended by more than 20 representatives of business, industry, educational, professional and civic organizations of the city.

Purpose Explained
In explaining the purpose of the meeting, Mr. Oliphant said that the establishment of the war board was necessitated by the number of emergency appeals which will have to be met now and in the future months as the outgrowth of war and defense needs. These, he said, will require the cooperation of both city and county residents.

Already, it was pointed out, appeals have been received from a number of organizations, among them the sponsors of the China Relief and the Russian Relief drives. These, it was emphasized, will be countywide in scope. By unanimous vote, the following men were named to serve as nucleus for the organization of the board and to enforce their committee as they see fit and necessary demand Judge Victor S. Young, representing the county, Mayor Russell C. Snare, representing the city, and Cutler McGraw, president of the Marion Chamber of Commerce, representing the business interests.

The Marion Community Foundation, Inc., which has sponsored annual financial campaigns in the interest of five local agencies, for the last several years, this year voted to include in its annual drive the collection of funds for the USO.

The drive, held in many places last week, was postponed until the community foundation's fall drive for consent of the sponsors of both organizations.

Seek To Unify Effort
Discussions brought out that there will be many appeals from churches, allied and national groups, civilian defense and other wartime organizations. While the community foundation and USO campaign had drive will be a joint drive in the fall, and the latter will be countywide in scope, the community foundation drive will be in the city only, it was brought out.

In addition to the five agencies, Salvation Army, Y. W. C. A., Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and Girl Reserves, supported through the foundation's drive, and the USO, local war-time agencies such as the civilian defense committee will probably look to the foundation for aid, discussions brought out. Among the proposed budgets listed with the defense committee is the purchase of general purpose masks to be used by local volunteers in the event of emergency.

Marion's First Circus of Season Arrives

King Brothers circus became Marion's first circus of the season today when it arrived here for a one-day, two-performance stand on the Drake lot on East Fairground street.

The show came here from Tiffin and has been out of Detroit, its winter quarters only 10 days. Last week is played in Jackson and Adrian, Mich., Fremont and Postoria before moving to Tiffin. Following tonight's show at 2:15, the motorized caravan will move to Gallon for a one-day stand. A matinee performance was presented this afternoon at 2:15.

War Bond and Stamp Sales Still Gaining

Continuing to rise, sales of war bonds and stamps in Marion county last week reached $52,212.50, an increase of $4,118.75 over the preceding week, the Marion County War savings staff reported today.

The total included $4,185.45 in stamps, an increase of $1,067.53 over the preceding week.

CRIPPS HINTS AT OPENING OF SECOND FRONT

Heavy German Smashes Are Turned Back by Russians; Allies Plans Guarded.

A new, decisive stage has been reached in the global war, as indicated today by word that the expanding Russian offensive had cut into the Germans' communications in southern Russia, by hints that the British were preparing to open a second European front and by a claim that Japanese invaders were within four miles of India's frontier.

Improving the United Nations' position facing the German-dominated continent was a heavy blow struck at German seapower—sneaking torpedoing of the 10,000-ton German cruiser Prinz Eugen off the southern tip of Norway. The warship "evidently was making her way back in a dockyard in Germany," it was then attacked by the RAF yesterday, the British air ministry said.

What condition the Prinz Eugen was left in was not at once clear.

No. 1 War Zone
In the No. 1 war zone the Red army was said by a British military communiqué to have doubled the scope of its drive in the Kharkov region. With the Red army closing in steadily, battlefield dispatches reported today that the Germans were hurling flying wedges of tanks and trailer-carried troops into death traps in the Russian lines in a desperate attempt to break up the offensive now in its seventh day.

Plavda reported that these Nazi counterattacks on wheels and tracks, as well as mass German parachute landings of many as 120 troops at a time, had failed to check the impetus of the Russian thrust.

Already that drive has gained 12 to 37 miles over blood-soaked battlefields littered with the bodies of 12,000 German dead and the wreckage of war materials hard to replace, the Russians announced officially.

British military sources said Marshal Timoshenko's armies were advancing on a 100-mile front extending in an arc from Volchansk, 30 miles northwest of Kharkov, to Krasnodar, 60 miles southwest of Kharkov. These sources said that, although stiffened German resistance undoubtedly had slowed the Russian push in some places, it had been stopped nowhere.

Drive Continues
A special communiqué, triumphantly announcing the Soviet advance during the period May 12-16, declared the drive was continuing unabated and the army organ Red Star asserted German resistance had been "definitely broken" in one sector.

The special announcement did not mention the situation on the Crimean front to the south, but the regular communiqué issued last night by the Soviet information bureau declared fighting still was raging near the city of Kerch, which the Germans had captured Saturday.

At mid-day today, the regular Soviet communiqué reported that Soviet soldiers fought stiff engagements "in areas of the town of Kerch."

(This indicated that the Russians still held part of the Crimean city. However, a British military commentator in London said that the Germans were in complete possession of the Kerch peninsula, except for Russians holding isolated positions.)

Despite German claims that the battle of the Kerch peninsula was ended in German favor, with 22,000 Russians taken prisoner, today's Russian communiqué said that Soviet troops were fighting stiff engagements "in areas of the town of Kerch" indicating that the Russians still held part of that Crimean city which faces the Hitler line.

Traffic Mishaps Decreasing

Show Decline from Year Ago; Most Drivers in Accidents Between 35 and 44 Years Old.

Reports in Marion are the same months of 1941, were listed.

April were fewer than in 1941. Accidents in the first four months of the year also less than in the same date last year.

Mishaps were reported in April during April 1941: 20 accidents were listed.

April this year, 26; a decrease of 33 under to May this year, three fewer than in May, 1941.

Of drivers involved in accidents whose ages were reported, most were in the 35 to 44 years of age group, which totaled 18. Fourteen were from 20 to 24 years of age, second highest number. Those in the 65-74 age bracket had the fewest number listed, two, while no drivers were reported in mishaps over 75 years of age.

As to sex, men still greatly predominated over women figuring in crashes. Sixty-four men were drivers of cars involved in collisions, while only 15 women figured in mishaps as drivers.

Thirty-eight accidents occurred during daylight, 11 during darkness and two at dusk or dawn, the report shows. While 25 were listed in the residential and shopping areas, only one was reported in the manufacturing or industrial district.

Friday was by far the most "popular" day for accidents with 12 listed while Saturday was runner-up with nine. Monday listed the fewest, four.

Only three hours of the day had no accidents listed: 5 a. m. to 5:59 a. m., 6 p. m. to 6:59 p. m. and 9 p. m. to 9:59 p. m.

Principal violation listed for drivers involved in crashes was "did not grant right of way to pedestrian," with nine such cases reported.

U. S. STEEL MILLS DOING GOOD JOB

Production Kept Up Despite Great Confusion.

CLEVELAND, May 18—Despite confusion as to priority precedences, "Steel" says today that mills are doing a good job of production, with distribution to most needed fabricators being managed without severe delay.

"Close attention is being paid to inventory by WPB and no accumulation is allowed by any consumer at the expense of supply to others," the review adds.

"Plates constitute the most needed item, shipbuilding taking by far the largest portion. New shipyards coming into production are increasing this demand.

"Scrap supply continues at the more satisfactory level of the past several years and all consuming districts are receiving enough for the high rate of steel production needs."

"Steel production last week rose

12 per cent to 92 1/2 per cent of capacity, the highest rate since the first week of June last year. Districts included Pittsburgh up 2 to 80, Detroit up 6 to 95, Cleveland up 6 to 24 1/2, Cincinnati up 4 to 34 1/2, Wheeling down 1 to 82 1/2, Youngstown unchanged at 84.

From where I sit ...

by Joe Marsh

EVERYBODY I hear about anybody having a big family I think of Dad and Ma Hoskins. The Hoskins' had thirteen children.

They weren't a bad bunch of kids, big and large—but it seemed one or the other of them would always be having a fuss with the neighbors or would break a window playing baseball, or some other kid would keep Dad and Ma mighty busy all the time.

One day Dad got a bright idea. He called the whole family together for a special meeting at the dining table.

He told them he was tired of chasing up on them all the time. He said he thought they were old enough now to check up on themselves. The older children would watch the younger ones. They would have meetings every so often and hand out rewards or punishments.

Well, it was a crazy idea but the kids liked it and they started behaving better than they ever had before. The idea worked and Dad finally did get a little time for himself.

I mention this story about Dad Hoskins because it's something like what I understand the beer industry is doing to regulate itself.

As I see it, most of the beer industry behaves itself perfectly all right... but every now and then, I guess, a retailer comes along who runs a place that isn't up to scratch... sort of like a wayward kid.

So like Dad Hoskins' family, the brewers and beer distributors have united together in an industry self-regulation program to help the proper authorities "clean up or close up" offending retail places.

The brewers, who want to protect beer's good name, cooperate wisely with the authorities who enforce the laws.

From where I sit, that's a fine thing for the brewers to do... particularly when you realize that after all they're really not responsible for retailing conditions.

Defense Training Director Finds Ads Bringing Results

COLUMBUS, May 18—Take it from Professor Harry E. Nold, director of defense training at Ohio State university.

Want ads using recruits. According to Professor Nold, classified ads are playing an important part in the training of workers badly needed for defense industries.

Nold has charge of the night classes in defense training conducted at Ohio State for people of Columbus and vicinity under sponsorship of the U. S. government. The classes usually are set up on short notice as the federal officials recognize a shortage in some particular type of work.

Since only a small item of expense is allowed in getting out the word, Professor Nold and Harold K. Schellenger, director of the news bureau, agreed on classified ads as the medium to be used. After several months' experience with the plan, the Ohio State staff members agree that results have far exceeded their expectations. Applications start coming in as soon as an edition hits the streets, and hundreds of men and women have been trained for work in defense industries as a result.

A process for producing chlorine gas from sulphur and common salt that does not require the use of a large amount of electricity has been developed by two Columbia University scientists.

FOR HOME AND COUNTRY

We Americans are once again dedicated to a high purpose: the quickest possible achievement of Victory for ourselves and our Allies—because with that Victory it will become possible for added millions of men, women and children in every land the world over, to enjoy the kind of freedom to secure which we first shed blood over a hundred and fifty years ago. It is a freedom without which life ceases to be worth living—and therefore it is worth dying for! It is a freedom which makes a man thrill to call his country "home."

We Americans are a home loving people, and that is as it should be. In this fight for Victory in which we are now so zealously engaged, we will have more and more reason to spend our leisure hours at home. Recruiting all the rubber that has gone into tires, all the metal that has gone into automobiles, and the fuel that has been poured into our pleasure cars to make the implements of war means that we'll go places less—and so renew the joys of being together; perhaps finding simple pleasures the most enjoyable!

Our country. Our home. It is for these that we are fighting. It is for these that we will achieve Victory! On the battle front or on the home front, just as long as each of us does all he can to keep production at top-speed, to equip our fighting forces that they may go over forward, confident in their equipment and in the full cooperation of the folks back home, that Victory must be won! We Americans are once again dedicated to a high purpose: to keep 'em rolling, keep 'em flying and back up the boys who are fighting by buying Defense Bonds and Stamps!

JAPS NEARING INDIAN BORDER

Chinese Say Invasion from Burma Halted in Frontier Region.

The most active theater of war in the Far Pacific, the tangled Burma battle zone, produced Chinese claims today that the enemy had been curbed in the China frontier region and a Tokyo claim that on the other side of Burma Japanese forces were within four miles of India's border.

A Tokyo broadcast said that Japanese pursuit of the British and Chinese forces still in Burma continued relentlessly. It referred not at all to the hard slugging the Japanese have encountered in their drives into China's Yunnan province, along the Burma road. Chinese reinforcements pouring across the Salween river for counter-attacks on Japanese forces in Yunnan province around Lungling and Tengyueh had completely canceled the Japanese threat to the Burma road city of Panashan, Chungking dispatches said.

Tri Old Tactics The Chinese defense appeared to have lapsed into the sort of guerrilla infiltration tactics which have served them so well in other sectors of the older war in China. The fighting retreat of the British imperials through Burma toward India was credited with providing forces in India five months to prepare for a Japanese attempt at invasion of the vast sub-continent. The monsoon in Burma may greatly enlarge that defensive advantage.

Further to hamper Japanese efforts in this direction, the growing British-American air power in India bombed Kailash, 140 miles northeast of Mandalay where the Japanese, unopposed, had seized footholds on the Chindwin river.

The air war on the invasion approaches to Australia resulted over the week-end in destruction of 10 Japanese planes in New Guinea and the neighboring Louisiade islands. Nine were destroyed in three swift assaults on the airdrome at Lae, New Guinea on Saturday.

Naval Force Cited The prospect of another naval battle in the Coral sea were pointed up by a Japanese report that two United States aircraft carriers, along with cruisers and destroyers had been sighted off the Solomon islands, northeast of Australia.

Sir Keith Murdoch, managing director of the Melbourne Herald declared today that the allies were unduly optimistic over the situation in the southwest Pacific and said that Australia must impress Washington with the need for many more ships.

MARIJUANA

(Continued from Page 1) Camper of Kenton, of the state department of industrial relations. Vance's car and one pound of marijuana were confiscated. Supply Seized As soon as the arrests were made, federal agents at Lima called Kenton police headquarters and four men of the department went to a home and confiscated a 50-pound load of marijuana. Mrs. Zane, who was in the house, was not arrested.

Police Chief Sheldon said he thought most of the business done by Zane and Vance was wholesaling to peddlers. He said that Saturday the price of marijuana had jumped from $20 to $28 a pound.

Two other men taken into custody at a local rooming house on suspicion were released when no marijuana was found on their persons.

News Men Bring First Dependable News from Axis

(This daily feature conducted in the Star's "World" column in its absence for a fortnight by Fred Vandenberg.)

Out of the black night which lies over Germany and Italy come the first adequate and entirely dependable analyses of enemy morale since the axis declarations of war on the United States. The stories of the American correspondents who have been interned in the third reich and in that German province which lies south of the Brenner pass.

Wells did not a prison made for these reporters, for even with their limited contacts with their keepers, they were able to keep a sensitive finger on the pulse of the peoples with whom they had worked. Their reports, now reaching Americans from neutral Portugal, are of the utmost importance to every United States citizen. They are required reading for anyone who wants to get a clear picture of the nature and magnitude of our own task in winning the victory.

Their stories are excellent negatives for wishful thinkers, for they are careful to point out the folly of expecting riot and rebellion in nations where the 20-lapo pistol is close to every hand.

Second Front Arguments Paradoxically the stories are powerful arguments for the speedy creation of a fighting front in western Europe, for they make it very plain that the dry rot of sullen apathy and hopelessness among the German and Italian people is creeping steadily into the axis armed forces whose task it will be to combat allied invasion of the continent.

The most unmistakable point of all these accounts is this: the utter weariness of the plain German and Italian people with the way they did not want, and their overwhelming yearning for almost any kind of a peace.

How little patriotic fervor is left to most of the axis folk can be read in the dozens of instances which the American correspondents cite of the scheming to defect the labor rules, the mushroom growth of black markets, and the sinister rise of special privilege.

There is a real lesson in that, incidentally, for Americans now immersed in the first complications of the ration card.

Warning to Others There also is a plain warning to the allied peoples of what to expect from the axis rulers as an inevitable consequence of the present attitude of the population, which they must, at all costs, attempt to hold in line.

"Peace," says one story from an Associated Press correspondent just arrived in Lisbon, "is the straw which the Nazis are holding out for the nation to clutch."

That, therefore, is the thing to remember as the axis "peace offensive" flicker and fade, as they are bound to do in coming months.

No longer able to convince Germans and Italians that the decisive military victory is just around the corner, the Nazi rulers will find it imperative to attempt to keep somewhere on the horizon of their darkened nations the elusive mirage of an early peace—the peace of a stalemate.

That these desperate efforts will be merely mirages, completely devoid of substance or sincerity, there can be no doubt at all.

It will be increasingly important that Americans, and their allies, too quickly recognize them as such.

"HITLER'S BLUNDER: WAR WITH U. S."

Here are Louis P. Lochner (right), a veteran, and a woman. Lochner is a correspondent at Berlin, and Adolf Hitler during a press reception in 1932. In a story from Lisbon where he and other Americans have arrived under an exchange agreement with the axis powers, Lochner said the German war declaration on the United States was Hitler's "greatest blunder."

Gubernatorial Race Assures Ohio Interesting Election

Bender and Young Nominations as Representatives at-Large Would Give State Only Major Contest.

WASHINGTON, May 16—Ohio will have a statewide vote involving national issues this year despite the lack of a senatorial election.

With the term of Sen. Robert A. Taft running until 1945 and that of Sen. Harold H. Burton until 1947, the issues will be presented by Representatives-at-Large George H. Bender and Stephen M. Young, both of Cleveland.

The first test will come in the August primaries when Young and Bender will seek the nomination of their respective parties for the one Ohio at-large house seat to be available in the 76th congress convening in 1939.

A second at-large seat was eliminated by population changes as shown by the 1940 census.

Bender, vehement Republican, and Young, lifelong Democrat, will not be opposing each other directly in the campaign to seek renomination on the basis of their records in Congress.

Both Back War Effort. If they win over primary opponents, the two men will give the voters a straight-out choice between candidates who seldom agree on domestic issues, although both have backed the war effort wholeheartedly, particularly since Pearl Harbor.

Ohioans with an eye on political trends say that primary victories by Young and Bender would assure a lively election campaign that certainly would attract national attention in November.

Both of the Clevelanders, well known throughout the state, are registering confidence of an easy victory in the election. Bender, chairman of the Republican organization in populous Cuyahoga county, will stand on his opposition to New Deal policies before the voters as a strong supporter of the Roosevelt administration.

Bender was critical of some administration foreign policies a year ago, but he called for an end to the outbreak of war. He reserved the right to criticize without hampering the war effort.

Save for coinciding opinion that the nation must remain united for victory and spend whatever is required to achieve that goal, Bender and Young are as far apart as any two members of opposite political parties on purely domestic issues.

This is reflected by their periodic speeches in and out of Congress.

Former State Legislators. These political foes got their legislative starts in the state legislature. Bender was a state senator from 1920 to 1930. Young served two terms in the assembly from 1913 to 1917. He is a lawyer, Bender an Editor and insurance company president.

Young's congressional experience started when he was elected to the 73rd, 74th and the current 77th congress. Bender was elected to the 76th congress in 1938 and was reelected in 1940.

Bender, obviously influential in his party, He publishes the Ohio Republican and the National Republican, and was a delegate to the last party convention. Young, outspoken critic of Republicanism, is a son of the late Judge Stephen M. Young. He had been considered a prospective candidate for governor but announced he preferred to remain in congress.

MRS. JURY DIES AT HOME NEAR WYANDOT

Widow of Former Village Official Passes Away.

Special to The Star
WYANDOT, O., May 16 — Mrs. Elizabeth C. Gelbaugh, 63, widow of the late Samuel Winslow Jury and a resident of Wyandot for nearly 61 years, died Saturday at 2 p. m. in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Helen McBride of a half-mile east of Wyandot. Since Jan. 1, when her health began to fail, she had lived at the McBride home.

Her husband, who died on Jan. 23, 1934, owned large tracts of land in the vicinity. He was postmaster of Wyandot more than 15 years, operated a general store for about 25 years, served several terms as a trustee of Antrim township, owned and operated Walnut Lake resort for several seasons and a one time operated a sawmill at Wyandot.

Mrs. Jury was born Aug. 23, 1856, near Duncan in Perry county, Pennsylvania, and was the last of six children of Christian and Christine Gelbaugh, natives of Pennsylvania. Her mother died when she was small and her father and the six children moved to Crawford county when she was six years of age. When she was 16 she and her father moved to a farm near Wyandot.

Her marriage to Mr. Jury took place on March 10, 1881 at Upper Sandusky. They started housekeeping in the home where she continued to live until the first of the year.

Sometimes You're Wrong!

You naturally have the feeling that what's better must cost more. Most of us feel that way, and usually it works out that the better a thing is, the more it costs.

But service is something a bit different. It costs no more to render interested, personal, conscientious service than it does to render just any old kind of service. The result is that this finer Schaffner-Denzer service, as we can prove, costs as little as ANY!

Hawks Drop 7-6 Decision To Tiffin Mud Hens; Return Game Wednesday

Joe Roseberry Stars As Locals Drop Third Straight Game.

By LOREN W. THIBAU
Marion Star Sports Editor

Bolstered by the return of Joe Roseberry, a Marion product whose minor league excursion ended Friday, the Marion Hawks suffered a narrow escape from victory yesterday at Tiffin as they posted a 7-6 decision to the Tiffin Mud Hens for their third straight loss.

Roseberry, who received a tryout with the St. Louis Cardinals recently and was shipped for a brief stay with the Washington, Pa., Red Birds of the Pennsylvania State association, a Class D circuit, ended his minor league stay Friday and returned here to play with the same team for whom he had starred for three years.

His Homer

In his first trip to the plate in the fifth inning of yesterday's game, he connected for a home run, the Hawks' first four-base clout. Pitcher King Bacon, who had singled to centerfield, crossed the plate ahead of hard-hitting Roseberry. Again in the seventh he sent shivers down the back of Tiffin's LaVerde Fox, who allowed the Hawks eleven safeties, by driving a long four out of the park. On the next pitch he singled to left and scored when third baseman Pangle bobbed. Joe Paulus, hot grounder. He was out third to first in his third appearance at the plate.

Roseberry's sterling performance was not confined to heavy work at the plate. Relieving King Bacon on the mound in the seventh with only one man retired, Roseberry forced Biggs to ground out to Joe Paulus at third and got Schrum on strikes. In the bottom half of the eighth he got Pangle, Spino and Fox on three consecutive strike-outs.

Drew First Blood

The Hawks drew first blood with a single run in the fourth. They added two in the fifth, one in the sixth and another pair in the seventh. With two men on and two out in the top half of the ninth, Ted Anderson sent a hard grounder to Pangle at third, who stabbed the grounder and threw to first to snag Anderson. Fritz Walters, who had got on base with a single, came home on the grounder but his score was nullified by the put-out at first.

Making his second start on the mound without a loss until the sixth, when Roseberry singled through the box. He scored and was followed across the plate by two other Tiffin men when Bacon issued two walks and Joe Roseberry and Fritz Walters both committed errors on bad throws.

Chuck Snyder, ex-Burgess High school athlete, was Bacon's nemesis. With the bases filled and only one man out he drove one of Bacon's slow curves far over the left field wall. Roseberry was called from first and blanked the Hens over the remaining route, but the damage had already been done.

The Hawks will make their second home appearance Wednesday at Lincoln park when the Mud Hens come here for a return battle. The Hawks will also be at home Sunday, entertaining the Fostoria Green Sox.

CHARLESTON NIPS DAYTON TWICE IN MID-ATLANTIC

Springfield Scores Double Win Over Erie Team To Hold Second

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., May 18—If you're looking for a reason why the Charleston Senators are in front of the Mid-Atlantic league pennant chase, it might be found in their hill work.

Yesterday, for instance, three hurlers allowed only eight hits in two games against Dayton, and the Senators won both, 2-1, 6-3. The second was a seven-inning tilt.

Don Bayliss went the route in the opener and gave up three scattered blows, while Buckeye Walters and Chuck Graves allowed a total of five in the afterpiece.

Second-pitch Springfield moved right along, too, whipping Erie twice, 4 to 1, and 3 to 2, after absorbing a 17 to 1 drubbing Saturday night.

The Zanesville club climbed into third place with a double triumph over the slipping Canton Terriers. The scores were 7 to 1 and 2 to 0.

Three-Game Card Tonight Will Open Softball Season

Marion's summer softball program which formally opened last week will get underway this week with a ten-game schedule on tap. Two of the 20 teams entered in the Y. M. C. A.-sponsored leagues will be idle this week and will not see action until next week. Charles A. Turner, softball commission secretary, explained that a system of byes was put in effect this year when teams expected to enter failed to do so, leaving an odd-number of teams in one of the three leagues.

Monday night in previous years has been Sunday School league night, but because of numerous shifts made necessary by the war Commercial league games will be played on Tuesday night.

The Industrial league games will be played on Thursdays this season instead of Fridays.

Following is the complete schedule for the week:

MONDAY

Commercial League

Smith Clothing vs. DeMolay at Lincoln, Moose Lodge vs. Waldo Independents at Garfield, Coca-Cola vs. Senior Hi-Y at Presidents. War Department idle.

TUESDAY

Sunday School League

PLEASANT TOWNSHIP TRACK TEAM SECOND IN DISTRICT MEET

Wilmer Bibler Leads Class B

Scoring; Other Marion Co. Teams Place High.

Teams Place High.

Marion county Class B teams grabbed more than a lion's share of the glory in Saturday's district track meet at Delaware, qualifying event for the state track and field finals next Saturday at Columbus.

Prospect captured the team title last year, but finished in sixth place this year. Canal Winchester grabbed the top spot this year with 42 points.

In second place, six and a half points behind the leaders in the Class B fixture, Coach Merton Porter's strong Pleasant township team led the parade of Marion county teams.

Jim Cusick captured the pole vault and the 220-yard low hurdles to lead Pleasant's first place men. Al Hogue, Coach Porter's senior, quarter miler, captured a first in the 440, second in the 220 and split second in the 100 yard dash with Justin of Jackson township. Hogue and Jim Cusick totaled 25 1/2 points to lead Pleasant.

Individual star of the Class B meet was Sophomore Wilmer Bibler of Morral. The stocky little sprinter, one of the county's most promising athletes of recent years, scored 16 points in winning the century and the broad jump. He was awarded a trophy for scoring the most points of any individual performer.

Bibler's total gave Morral fifth place in the meet. Norman Weston, Millard Hamilton, Charles Carr and Ray Annette displayed sparkling form in pacing Green Camp's team to fourth place ahead of the Morral and Prospect teams.

Marion Harding's track squad which has failed to show little promise this season, finished sixth in the Class A meet. It was the best performance of any Harding team ever entered in the event. Speedy Bill Daly finished second in the 100-yard dash, while Charlie Roberts, Jim Gwilym and Day Hurst finished in scoring position but failed to qualify for the state meet. First and second men in each event are eligible to enter the state meet.
